Physicians are demanding HbA1c-specific testing. So much so that labs ordered some 500,000 of Bio-Rad's Hemoglobin A1c test within nine months after its introduction in February 1983. In fact, it's so accurate it's now the best selling hemoglobin assay.

HbA1c. Clinical studies cite it most often as the superior tool for diabetes monitoring. (Ask us for copies of documented research.) Hemoglobin A1c by Column Test. The first. The one. The only.

The results are positive.
